WHAT THE SOCIAL REFORMERS SAW

Chicago, Nov. 1.—Asking for an endowment fund of $100,000 and suggesting that the first place to inaugurate a campaign against the "white slave" traffic is in the nation's capital, the nineteen social reformers who left Chicago in September for a social purity campaign through the west, south and north returned yesterday and made a report to the American Purity federation.

The members of the delegation visited St. Paul, Minneapolis, Seattle, Tacoma, San Francisco, Houston, Texas, New Orleans, Memphis, Washington and the principal cities of western Canada.

They report that they found conditions much worse in the west than in Chicago, but not one of the delegation was willing to admit that Chicago had been slandered.

Congressman J. R. Mann, author of the white slave act, said that while all men were sorry for the vicious conditions which prevail in certain localities, yet the aim of efficient legislators was to secure the enactment of effective laws and not to engage in the wholesale expression of sentiments.

"When President Taft signed the white slave bill, he said to me, 'Now that you have a law, lose no time in arresting and imprisoning the men who engage in this traffic,'" said Mr. Mann. "The president declared the men to be the vilest of all criminals, and said it was now up to the people to catch them and prosecute them."

CONVICTS FIGHT THE FOREST FIRES

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Oct. 31.—After nine hours of work by convicts from the state road camp, Colorado college students, forest rangers and members of the city fire department, the forest fire which threatened destruction to the Star, Williams, Tousey and Martin ranches, at the foot of the Cheyenne mountains, five miles southwest of this city, was under partial control at 9 o'clock to night. There is no further danger to the ranches, but the flames are destroying the timber on the slopes of the mountains.

Nature's Hair Restorer

WYETH'S
SAGE AND SULPHUR
HAIR REMEDY

One Great Reason Why

This Great Hair Beautifier and Color Restorer
Produces Such Remarkable Results

Sulphur is a Natural Element of the Hair

When there is not a sufficient amount of sulphur in the hair, it loses its life, color and strength, turns gray, and falls out. There are many forms of sulphur, but only one kind that is suitable for treatment of the hair and scalp, and that is the kind used in preparing WYETH'S SAGE AND SULPHUR HAIR REMEDY.

We Have the Secret, and We Give You the Benefit of
It at an Exceedingly Low Price

For two or three years my hair had been falling out and getting quite thin, until the top of my head was entirely bald. About four months ago I commenced using Sage and Sulphur. The first bottle seemed to do some good and I kept using it regularly, until now I have used four bottles. The whole top of my head is now fairly covered with hair, and it keeps coming in thicker. I shall keep on using it a while longer, as I notice a constant improvement.

Burglar Insurance

In these times of a "wave of crime" terrorizing the city, have you considered the efficacy of an ELECTRIC PORCH LIGHT in protecting yourself, your wife and your family from thugs and thieves?

In the first place, the criminal class work mostly by night, and naturally avoid well lighted houses, and especially well lighted porches.

In the second place, should one of them come to the door in spite of such precautions, the porch light enables you to see who your visitor is before opening the door to him—think what a comfort and reassurance this is to the women-folk.

Or again, the whole family can go out and leave the house deserted—a light on the porch will afford as much protection as a patrolman.

Burglar Insurance is simply one of the many indispensable conveniences of electric light. There are others.

LYCEUM THEATRE OPENS FOR SEASON

After a period of three months, during which time builders and artists have brought a marvellous transformation, the doors of the Lyceum theatre on Twenty-fifth street were again thrown open to the public last night but it was a new and magnificent Lyceum which seemed to greet the patrons of the popular playhouse last evening.

And the demonstrations of the public approval and interest which marked the re-opening of the Lyceum was one which would seem to indicate that the past success of this vaudeville house will be repeated on a larger scale. The capacity of the theatre was inadequate to accommodate the hundreds who desired to be "first nighters" at the new theatre.

The announcement of the opening of the Lyceum brought joy to the hundreds who had spent delightful evenings at the old theatre and long before the box office window had been opened a long line of people had formed in front of the brilliantly lighted entrance. The doors were thrown open almost a half hour before the scheduled time and at ten minutes to eight o'clock there was not a vacant seat on either floor.

Still several hundred people sought admittance and after every available inch of standing room space was filled Manager Lippincott was forced to announce to those outside that they must wait until the second show at 9:15. Few theatres have ever been given a more enthusiastic welcome than that which was given the new Lyceum by the public last night.

Comfort and safety rather than luxury and show have been the watchwords in the plan and construction of the new Lyceum. Although no expense has been spared to make the theatre as safe as possible and provide for the every need and comfort of the patrons, no gaudiness or unnecessary equipment, either in decorations or furnishings, was apparent.

Entrance to the ground floor is made through two wide apertures at either side of the box office and on a level with the sidewalk, there being no steps and only a slight incline. These entrances open into a wide airyway extending entirely across the rear of the house and partitioned off from the last row of seats by a substantial iron railing.

From the rear of the house the floor makes an easy, gradual incline to the stage and wide aisles extend from directly in front of the entrances to the orchestra pit. In addition to these aisles there is a wide open space directly across the center of the house and offering an unobstructed passage way to another exit on the east. At each side of the stage and directly at the end of the main aisles are exits for use in case of fire or panic, thus giving the ground floor of the theatre five exits, three of which are six feet in width.

Entrance to the balcony is gained from the outside by means of wide stairways on each side of the building. The operating room for the motion pictures is situated in the center of the house at the rear of the balcony and is constructed in compliance with the underwriters' regulations and the state laws.

The theatre will seat almost 700 people, the ground floor having a capacity of 400 and the balcony 228. The entire lower floor is equipped with comfortable opera chairs and the balcony with folding chairs secured in such a manner that they cannot be dislodged or the rows moved about. All seats on the main floor are reserved on the fifteen and twenty-cent scale, while the general admission to the balcony is ten cents.

A pleasing feature of the new Lyceum is the interior decoration, which is plain but none the less neat and attractive. For a distance of four feet above the floor the walls are stained a light green and above this to the ceiling border the wall is tinted in a shade of salmon which is pleasing to the eye. The ceiling of the auditorium is a still lighter shade of lemon yellow. Especially attention has been given to the lighting and the ceiling of the auditorium is studded with four clusters of tungsten lamps.

The stage, which is fully equipped for handling the largest vaudeville acts, has an opening of 24 feet and is also 24 feet in depth. There is a spacious fly loft equipped with new drops, and in fact every piece of scenery is new and all has been properly painted with a fire proof solution. The lighting of the stage could not be more perfect, there being more than 200 available lights.

Throughout the entire house every precaution has been taken to safeguard the patrons; every door swings either in or out; every exit is properly marked with a red light, and in fact no detail which tends toward safety has been omitted.

The new Lyceum was financed by the Maude Kista, and the plans and specifications were drawn by Architect Eber F. Piers. The building is a monument to the ability and good judgment of this young man and his ideas were very successfully carried out by Contractor L. M. Mead.

The complete house staff of the new Lyceum is as follows:

For the opening bill the management presented four very creditable vaudeville acts, and the plans and pictures and illustrated songs. Music was furnished by a three-piece orchestra, which was composed of talented musicians.

The opening number on the bill, following a comedy motion picture subject, was Jack Hub, the Hebrew character impersonator, who called himself "not a liar but a story teller." His songs and comic monologue served to put the large audience in an exceedingly good humor.

"Babe" Mason and Edith McClaire are two clever girls, 16 and 17 years of age. Their specialty is singing, and both possess well cultivated and pleasing voices.

Bert Syphers is again singing the illustrated songs and his appearance last night was greeted with hearty applause. He sings "When a Boy From Old New Hampshire Loves a Girl From Tennessee."

Thus, the Australian two-headed policeman, is a guessing proposition, and it requires careful observation to determine which head is real and which is wood. The feature act of the bill is a Bowery skit by Trizada and Robinson, and their tiow of up-to-the-minute slang made a decided hit.

In this act Mr. Robinson makes exceedingly quick changes.

The bill as presented last night will be seen throughout the remainder of the week, and the new bill will be presented each succeeding Monday night.

The Lyceum is on the Pantages circuit, with Ed Eisner, the booking agent, located at Seattle.
During the course of the bill last evening Manager Lippincott appeared before the curtain and in a very clever little speech welcomed the people to the new Lyceum. He promised them the very best vaudeville acts to be had, and his remarks were generously applauded.

TRUTH CROPS OUT

Why Pile Sufferers So Often Fail To Get Relief.

Science is getting to the bottom of everything, including the cause and cure of piles. The brightest doctors now admit that piles are caused internally and can be cured only by internal treatment. Dr. J. S. Leonard some time ago perfected a remedy in tablet form—Hem-Roid, which cures the cause of piles, and therefore cures permanently. It is sold by Badcon's Pharmacy, Ogden, Utah, under money-back guarantee. $1 for 24 days' treatment. Dr. Leonard Co., Station B, Buffalo, N. Y. Write for booklet.

WATCH DOG SAFE, BUT PAWNSHOP BROKEN INTO

Salt Lake, Nov. 1.—About $400 worth of knives, watches, revolvers, a suit of clothes, a shotgun and case and $30 in cash were stolen from the pawnshop at 17 Commercial street by burglars who broke into the shop from a club room above some time Sunday night.

The pawnshop is owned by Louis Askvitch and managed by S. Friedman. Jim Kay, a Chinaman, who conducts a noodle restaurant next door to the pawnshop, is said to have warned Askvitch to be on the lookout for burglars. Askvitch accordingly took home his watch dog for fear the animal would be killed by the burglars, and left all the lights burning. The Chinaman says he heard men talking about robbing the pawnshop.

Salt Lake, Nov. 1.—The Brice Drug company, a corporation doing business in the Senhoh hotel block, State and Second South streets, was bound over to the district court Monday with bonds of $200 by P.
